Wall Street, Tuesday, April 13. The market enjoyed a sharp rally in the afternoon, on a variety of rumors, some of which were true, some of which were false and some of which were ludicrous.

A heavy tone characterized trading in the norning, although Reading and Tennessee Coal and Iron were the only stocks that made material declines. In midday a report was circulated that Greece had accepted a proposition for a new form of autonomy for Crete, and the weakness of wheat was taken as a confirmation of this report. At all events, the traders on the or of the Exchange had the whole European trouble settled before 3 o'clock, and were covering short contracts throughout

Another report that had influence was the ssertion that ex-Senator Edmunds, counsel Joint Traffic Association, had asured the trunk line railroad officials that here would be no difficulty in convincing e Supreme Court Judges that their castfron agreement to maintain rates was not to be classed with such agreements as the Wall Street Brokers to Go Into Athletics.

A LITTLE DEVICE TO INDUCE

BROKERS TO TRAIN FOR EVENTS

THE brokers of the Stock Exchange have concluded that they need more exercise than the daily routine of business provides. Buying and selling in the pit develops the lungs, but the biceps and leg muscles receive no benefit therefrom. So the brokers are planning to form an athletic club, exclusively for 9314 buils and bears. The thin brokers expect to grow fat and the stout ones thin. A six months' course in the gymnasium will enable a man to carry heavier options and meet all comers in any kind of deal. One of the most popular forms of exercise. It is said, will be swinging the market by the tail.
